

NORTHMONT HIGH SCHOOL

Clayton, Ohio

1973-1974

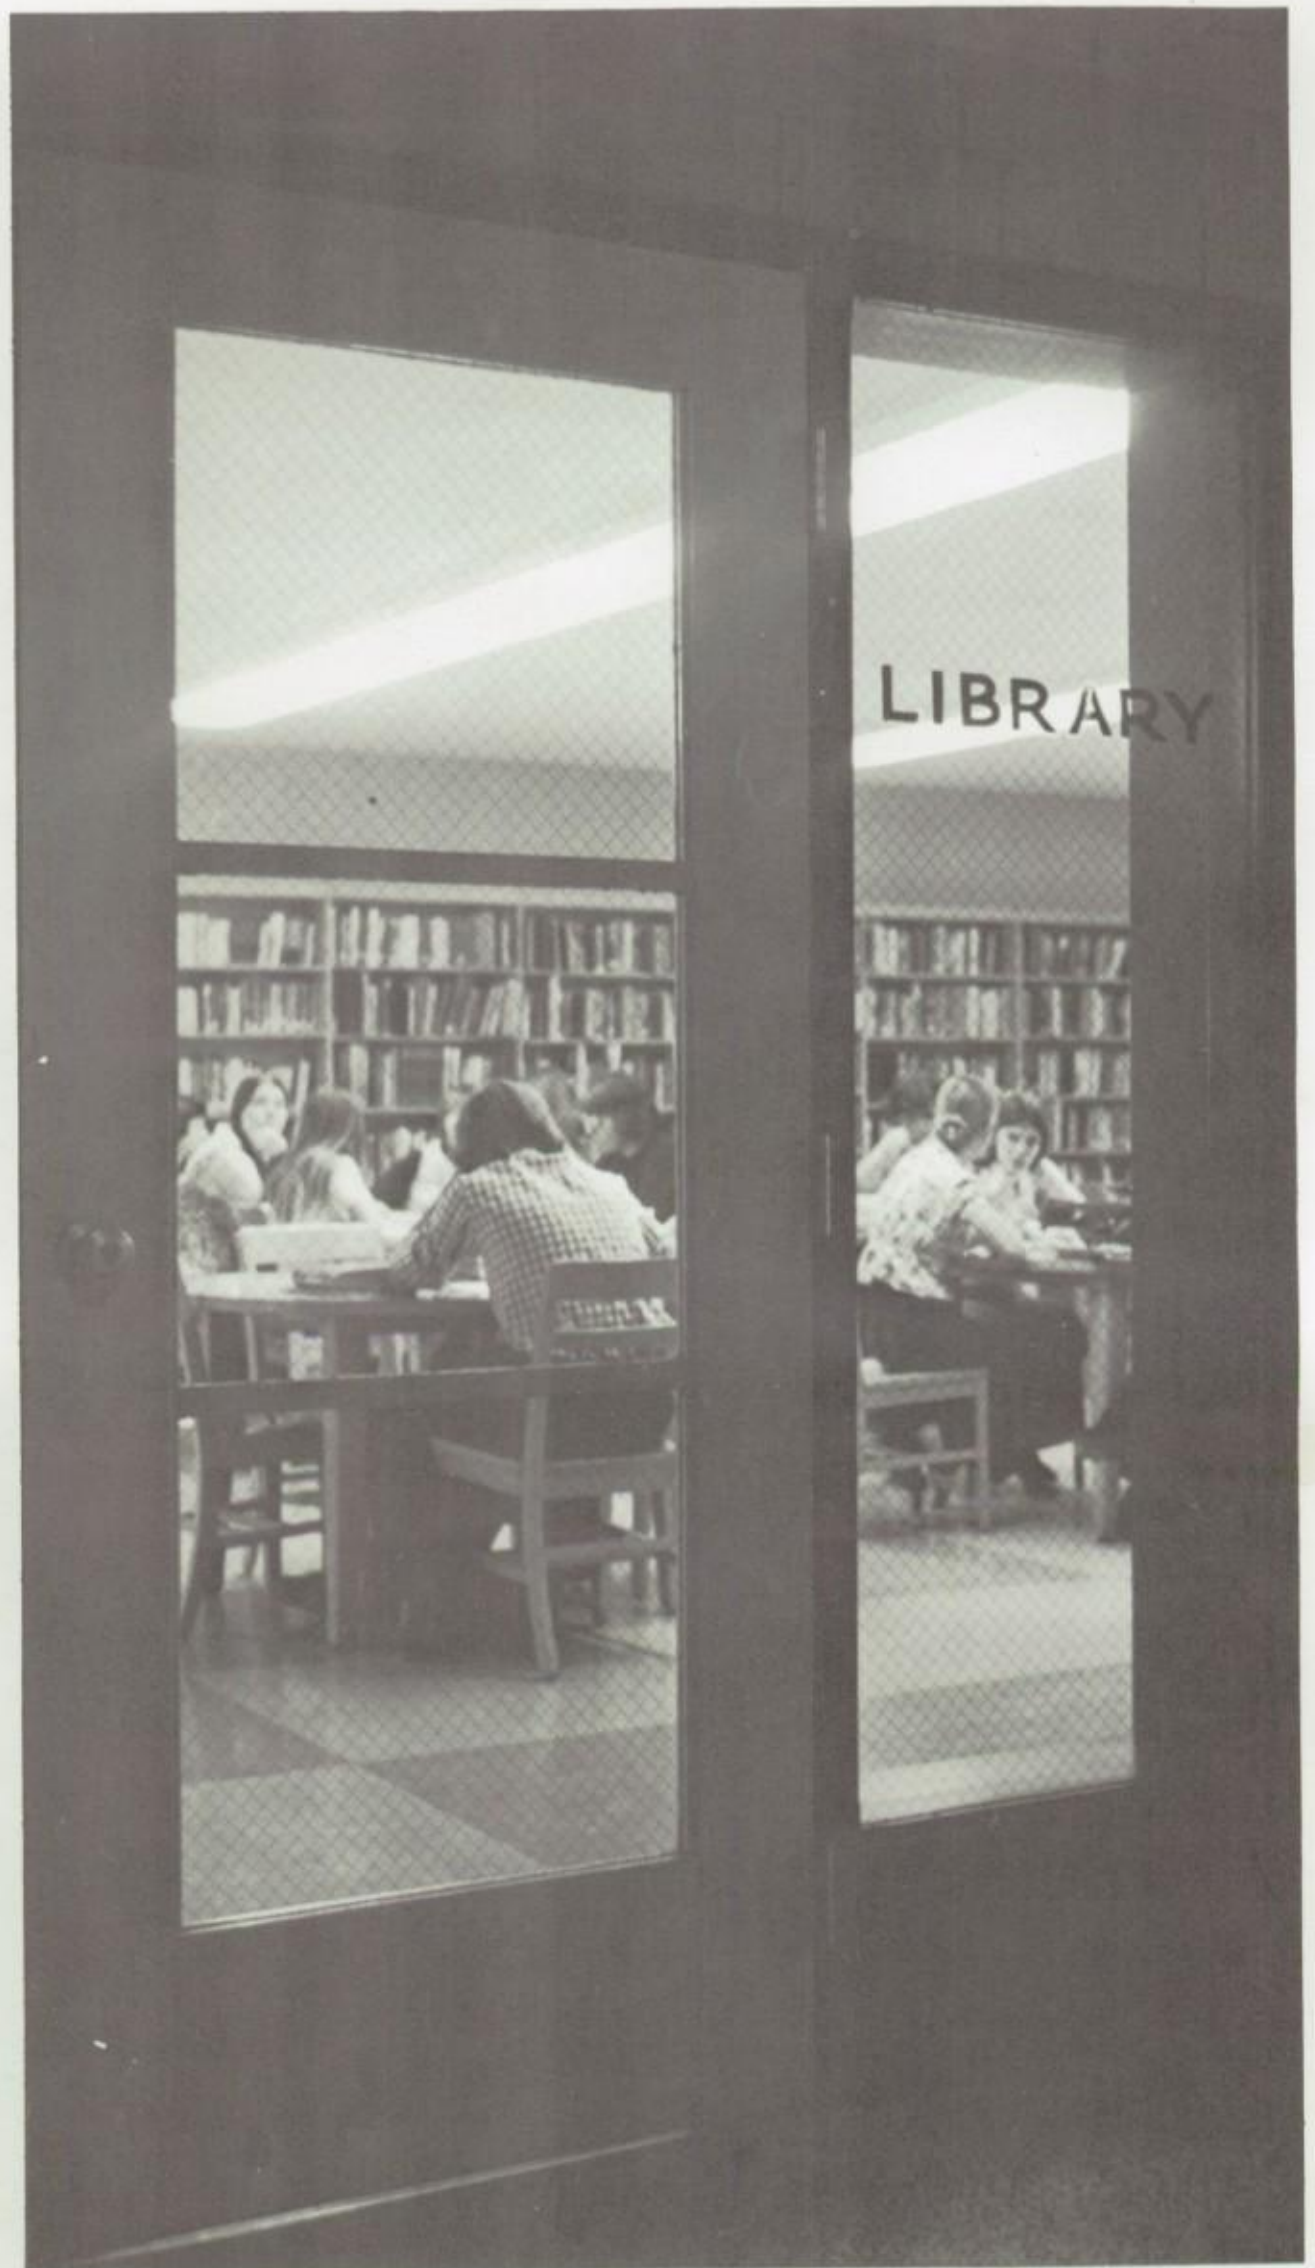

This was our own special life
 We worked, sweated, laughed and learned, even though it might not have been what was taught in class.
 Some of us grew up and learned to care about other people
 Instead of only ourselves . . .

I've had my share of broken dreams and more than a couple of falls, and in chasing what I thought were moonbeams, I've run into a couple of walls . . .

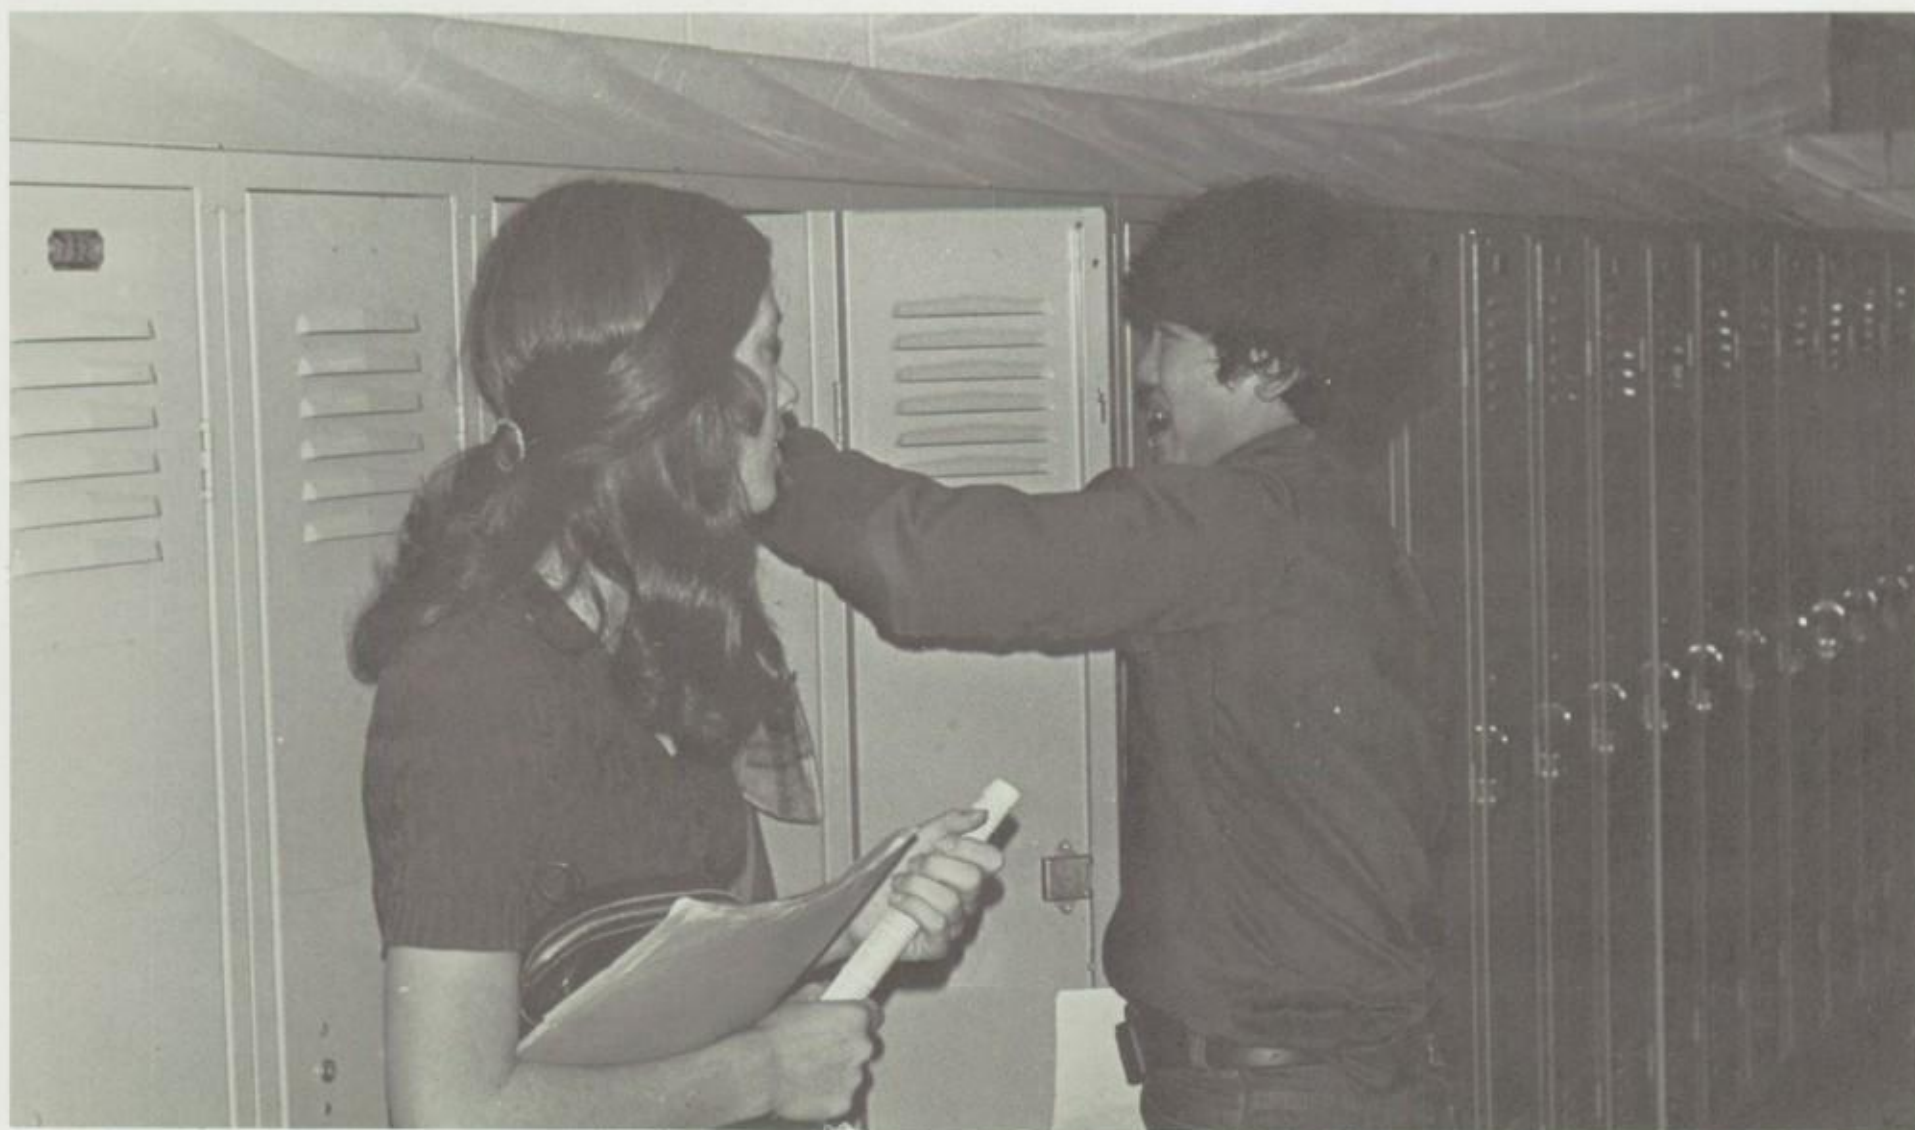

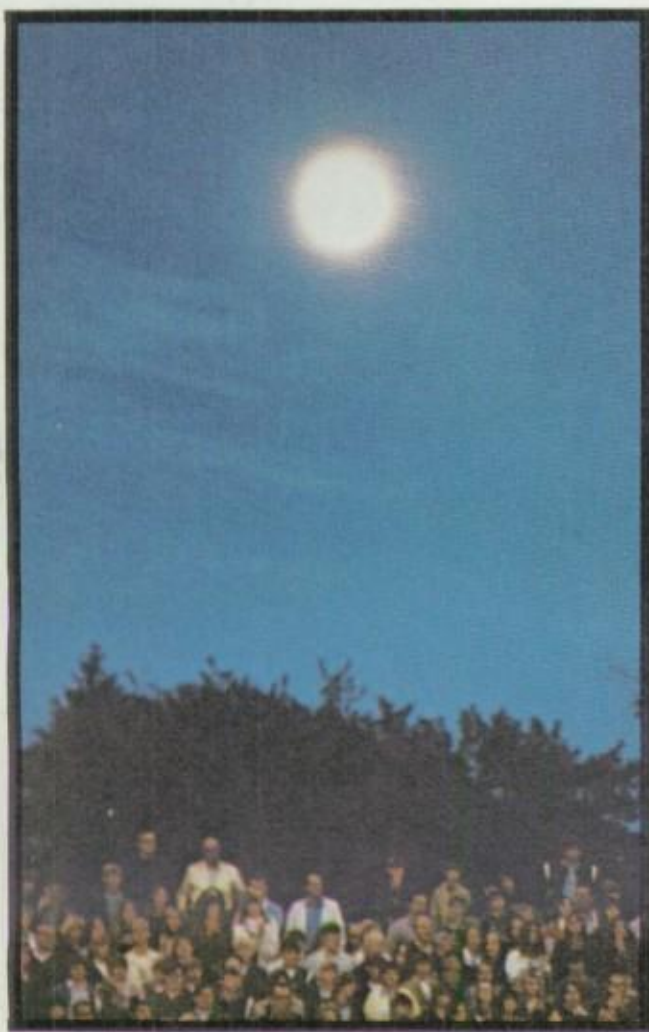

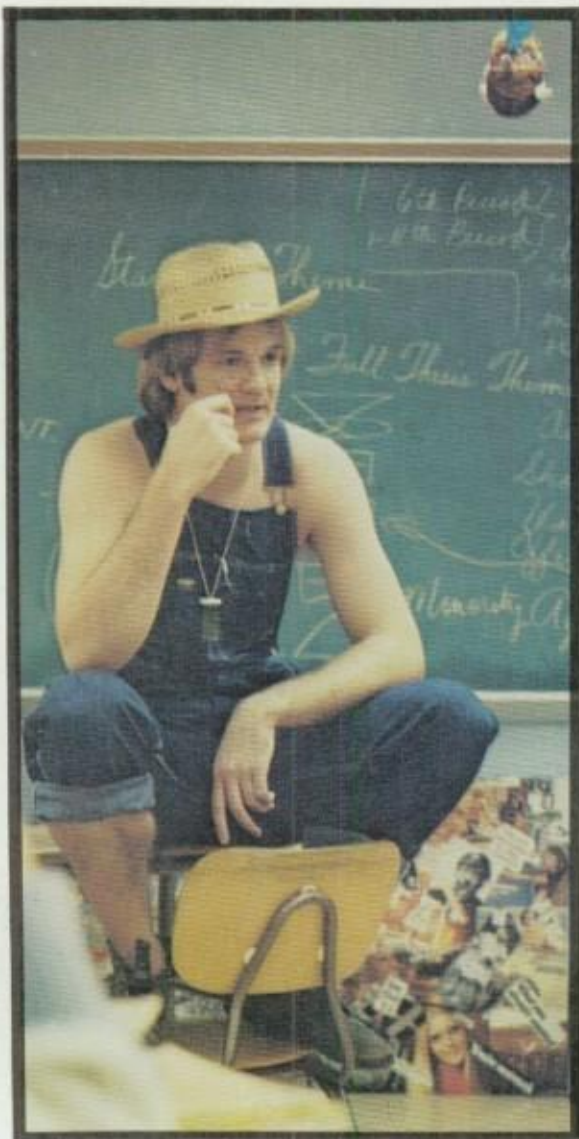

... but in looking back at the places I've been,
the changes I've left behind
I just look at myself to find I've learned ...

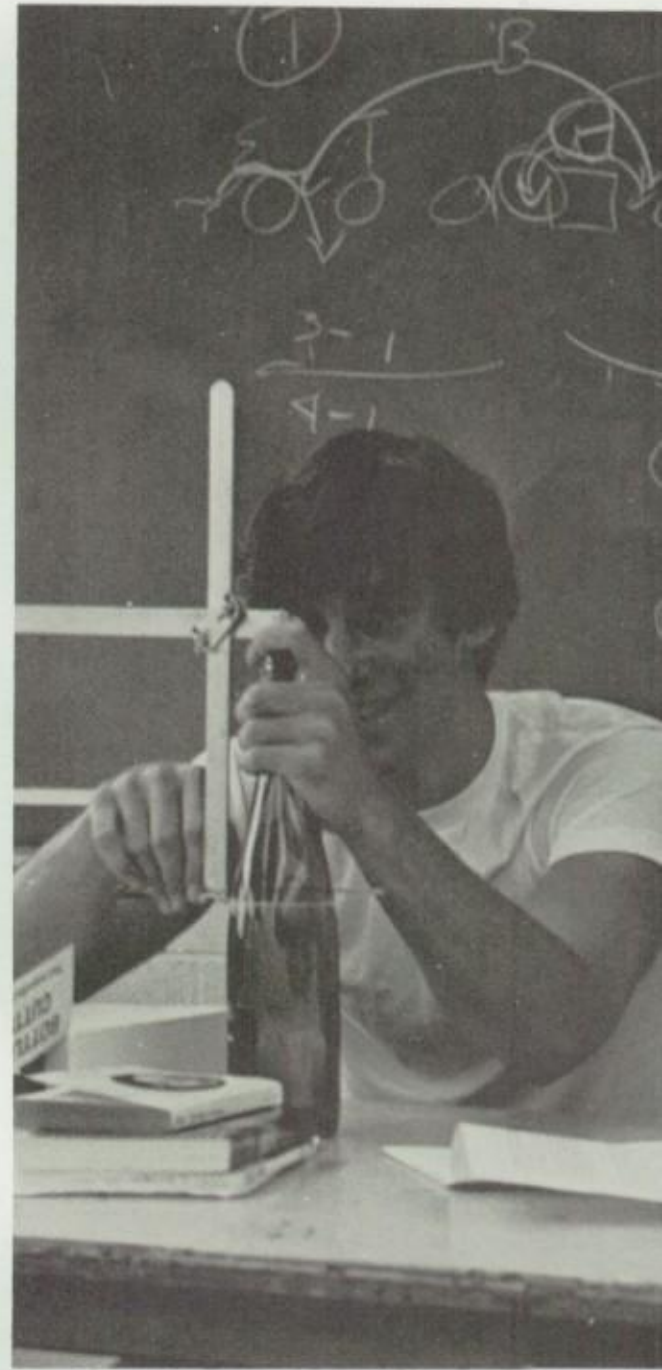

... a hard way every time
'cause I had my share of good intentions and I've made my share of mistakes and
I've learned at times it's best to bend 'cause if you don't well, those are the breaks.

I should have listened to all the things I was told, but I was young and too proud at the time. Now I look at myself to find I've learned a hard way every time . . .

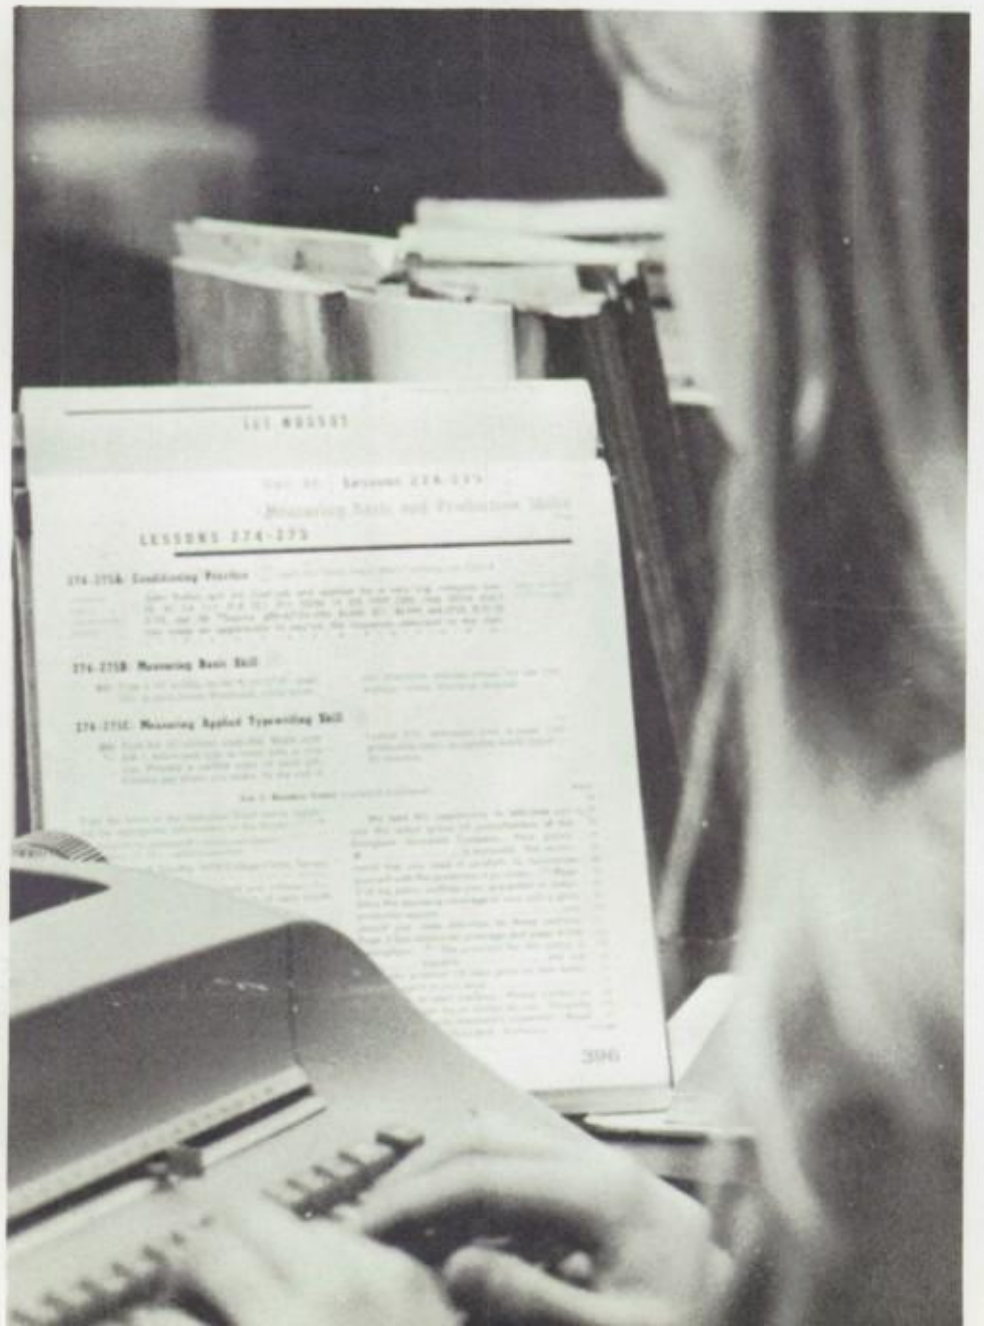

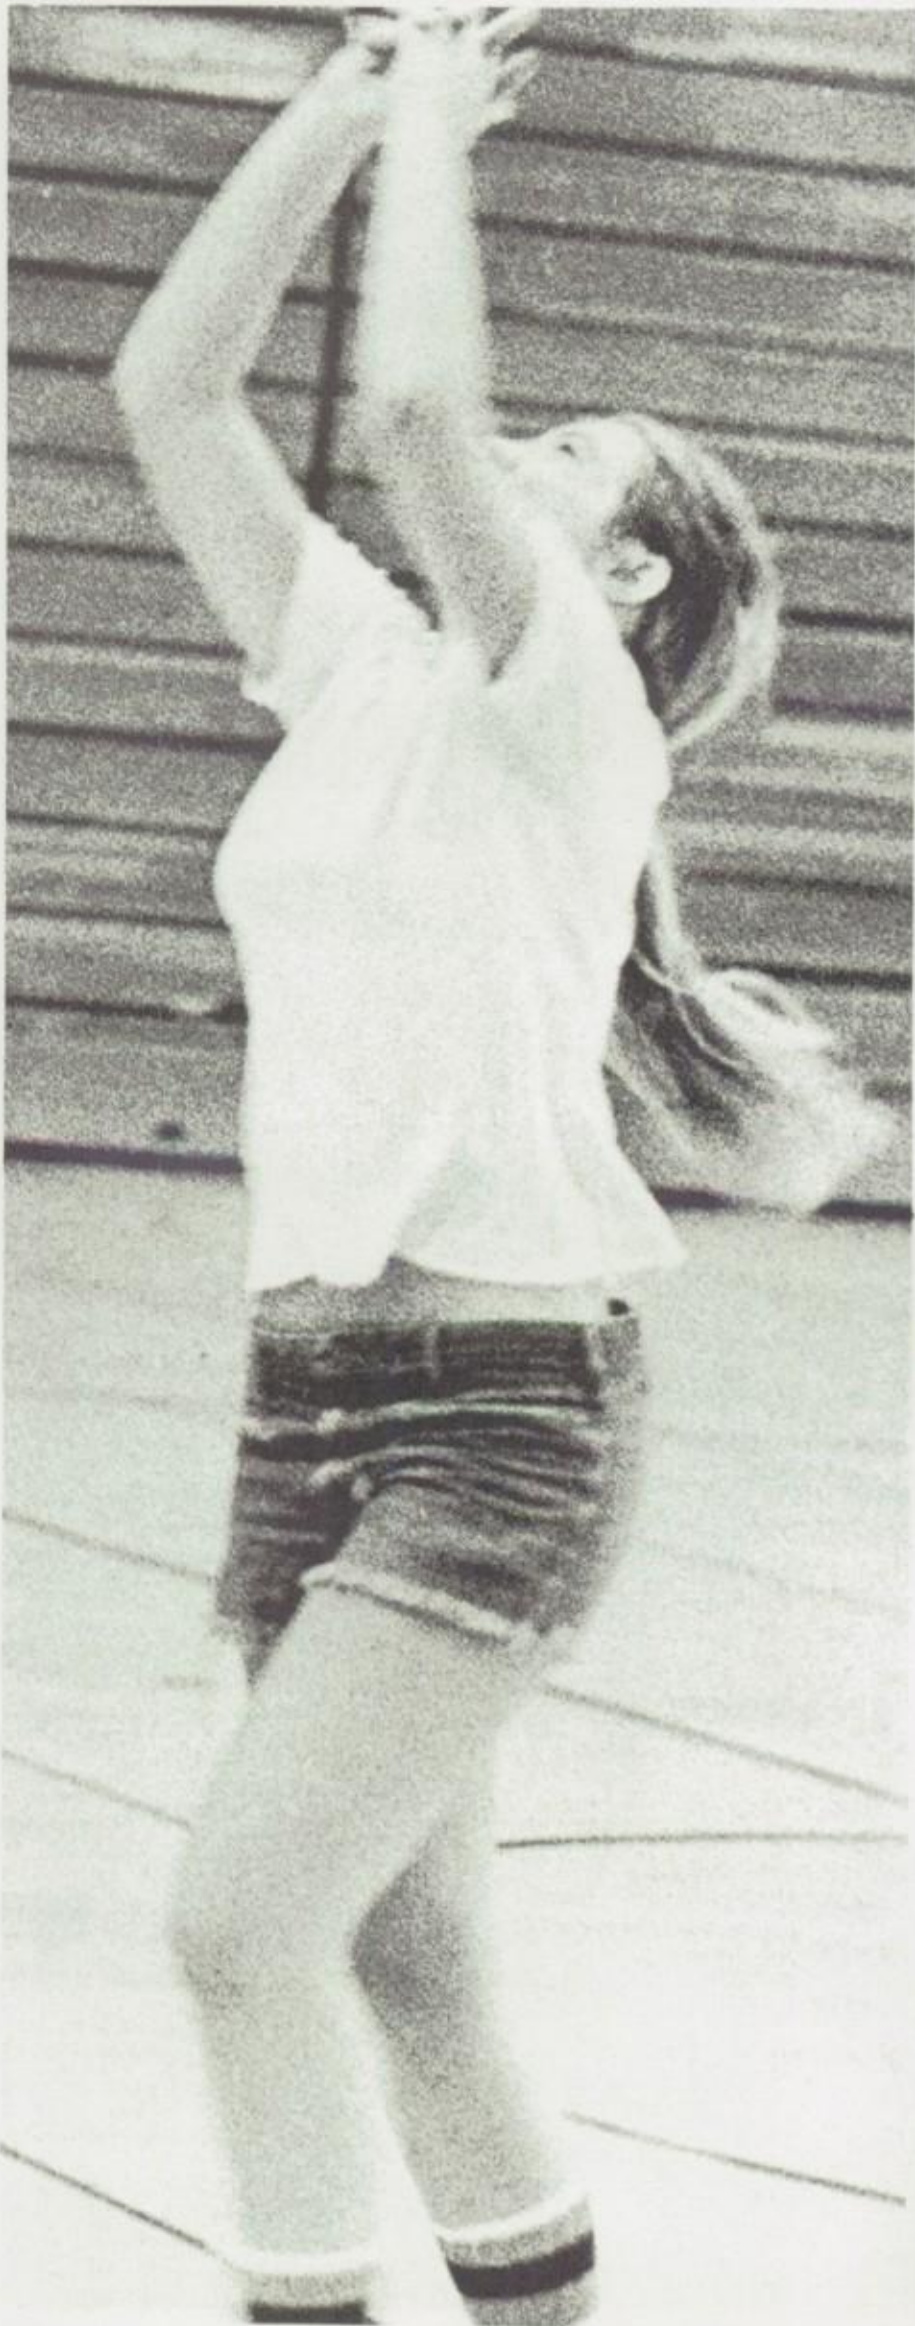

I've had my share of broken dreams and more than a couple of falls, and in chasing what I thought were moonbeams
I've run into a couple of walls . . .

... but in looking back at the places I've been I would surely be the first one to say, when I look at myself today -

I wouldn't have done it any other way.

Early Fall Band Activities

Scott Maurer models his bib-overalls at Band Camp.

Band Camp (as any band member will explain) is one of the most terrifying, yet most gratifying experiences of a band member's life. The mention of such words as: "initiation," "workout," and "exhaustion" conjure forth many colorful Band Camp memories.

The Northmont Band Premiere is another early Fall activity. Such outstanding bands as Marion Local, Carroll, and Wayne attended the "Festival of Bands".

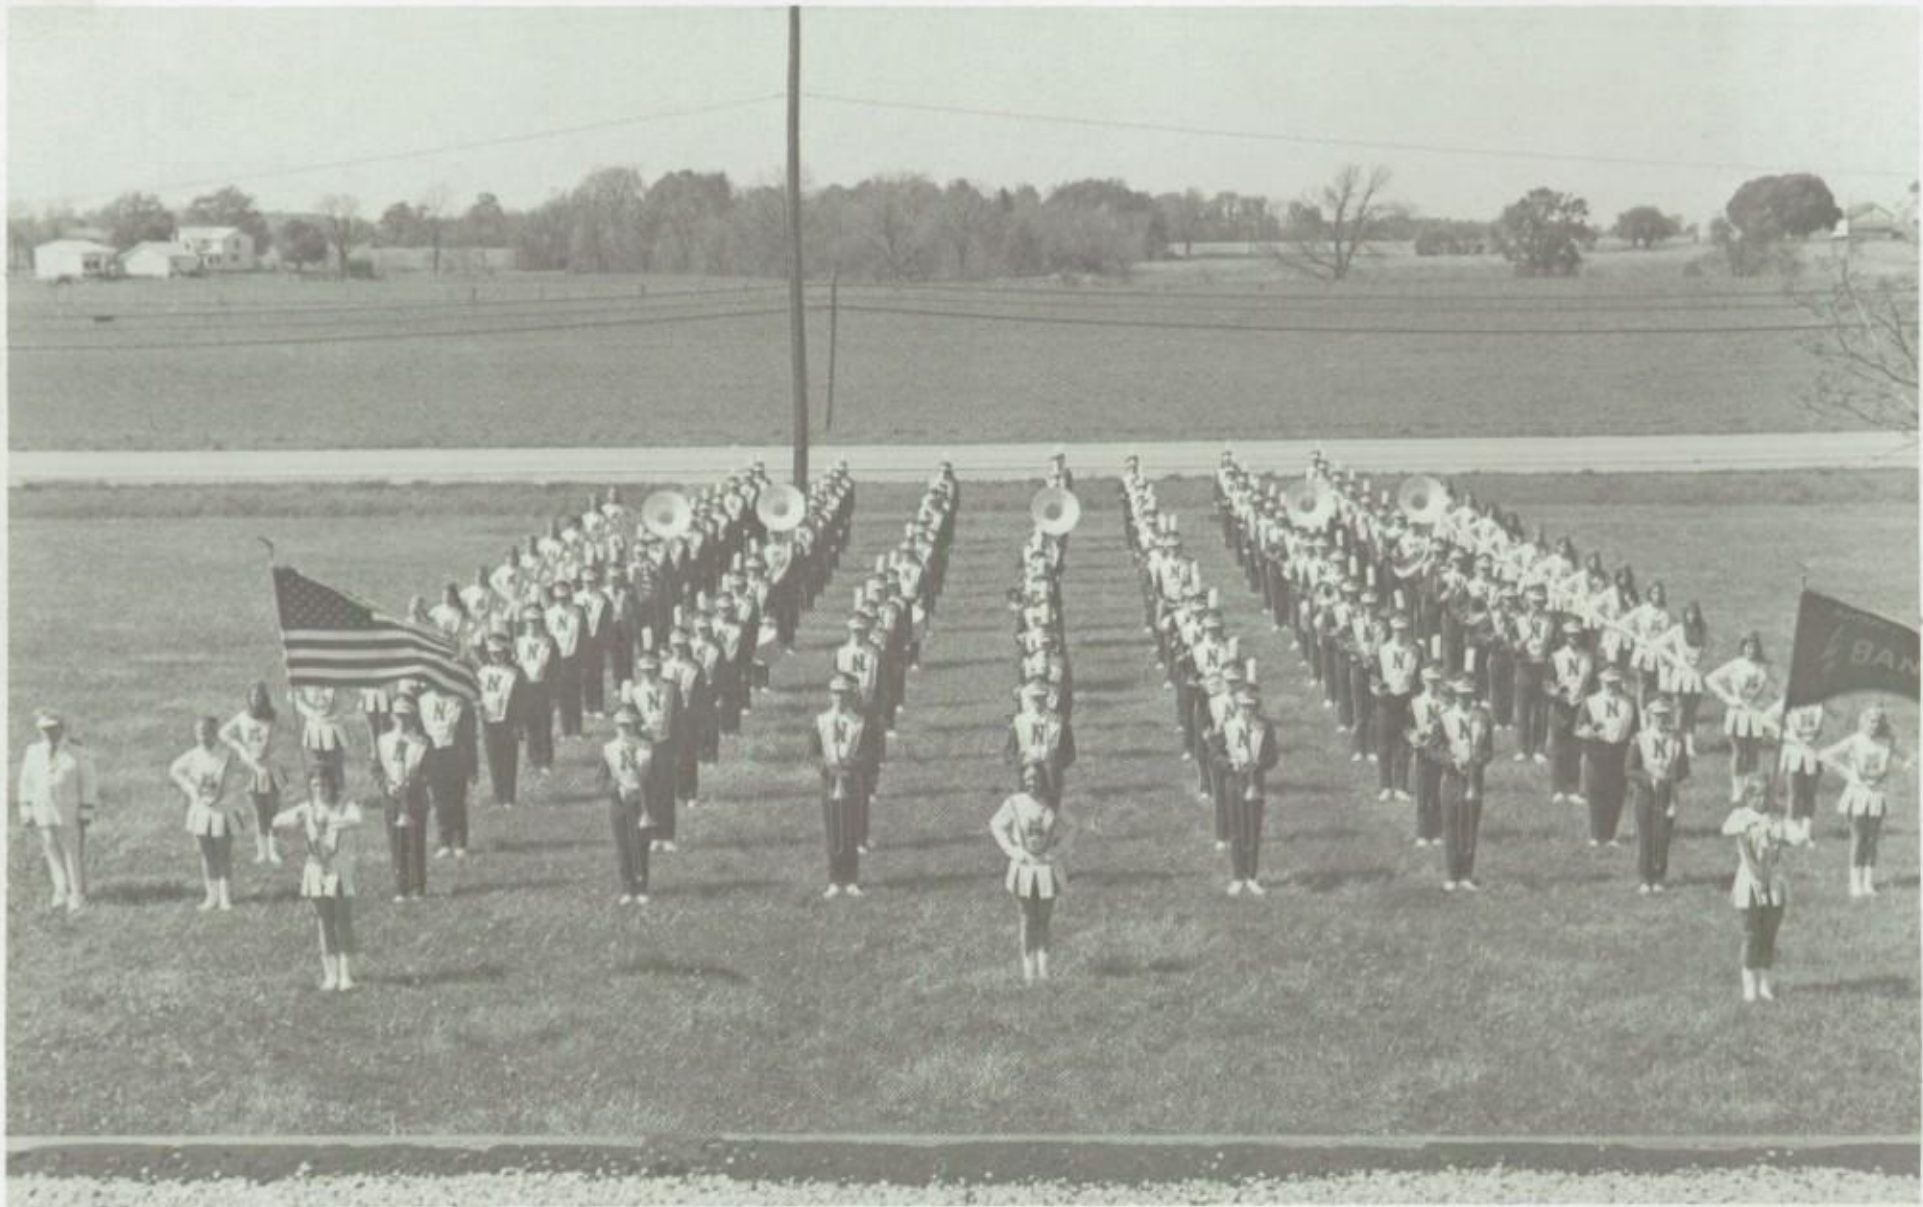

The first appearance of the 1973-74 Band was at the annual Band Parent's Ice Cream Social in Englewood.

Homecoming '74 — the dance that almost wasn't. Until the Senior Class voted to sponsor the event with funds left over from Prom '73, the dance almost didn't get off the ground.

They chose "Those were the Days" as the overall theme. It was based on Northmont's past, and included former and present teachers, students and events. Sunny Good Street provided the music.

Lynn Blaeser was crowned Homecoming Queen, and her attendants were Seniors Gail Maurer and Nadine Ishmael, Junior Amy Fuhrer, and Sophomore Lynn Frost.

The 1974 Christmas Dance, sponsored by the senior class, was titled "Snowflake Serenade". The Imperials were on hand to provide the music. Paper snowflakes and a huge, live Christmas tree helped turn the gym into a beautiful setting for an evening of music and friendship. Seniors Barb Jones and Jim Phelps were crowned King and Queen by last years' Queen Connie Miller.

Success Means Practice . . .

The team's main objective this year, like every year, was to win the S.W.B.L. Championship. But they didn't win it, and they had to settle for a second place tie.

Head Coach Ned Booher felt that a couple of things cost them that championship. "One was that we had a great deal of youth on defense. The defensive line was almost all underclassmen. Another reason (which is strictly conjecture) was that this group of kids were not quite as 'hungry' as others have been. A lot of people would be happy with a 7-3 season. We weren't." Nobody was ashamed of that record, though.

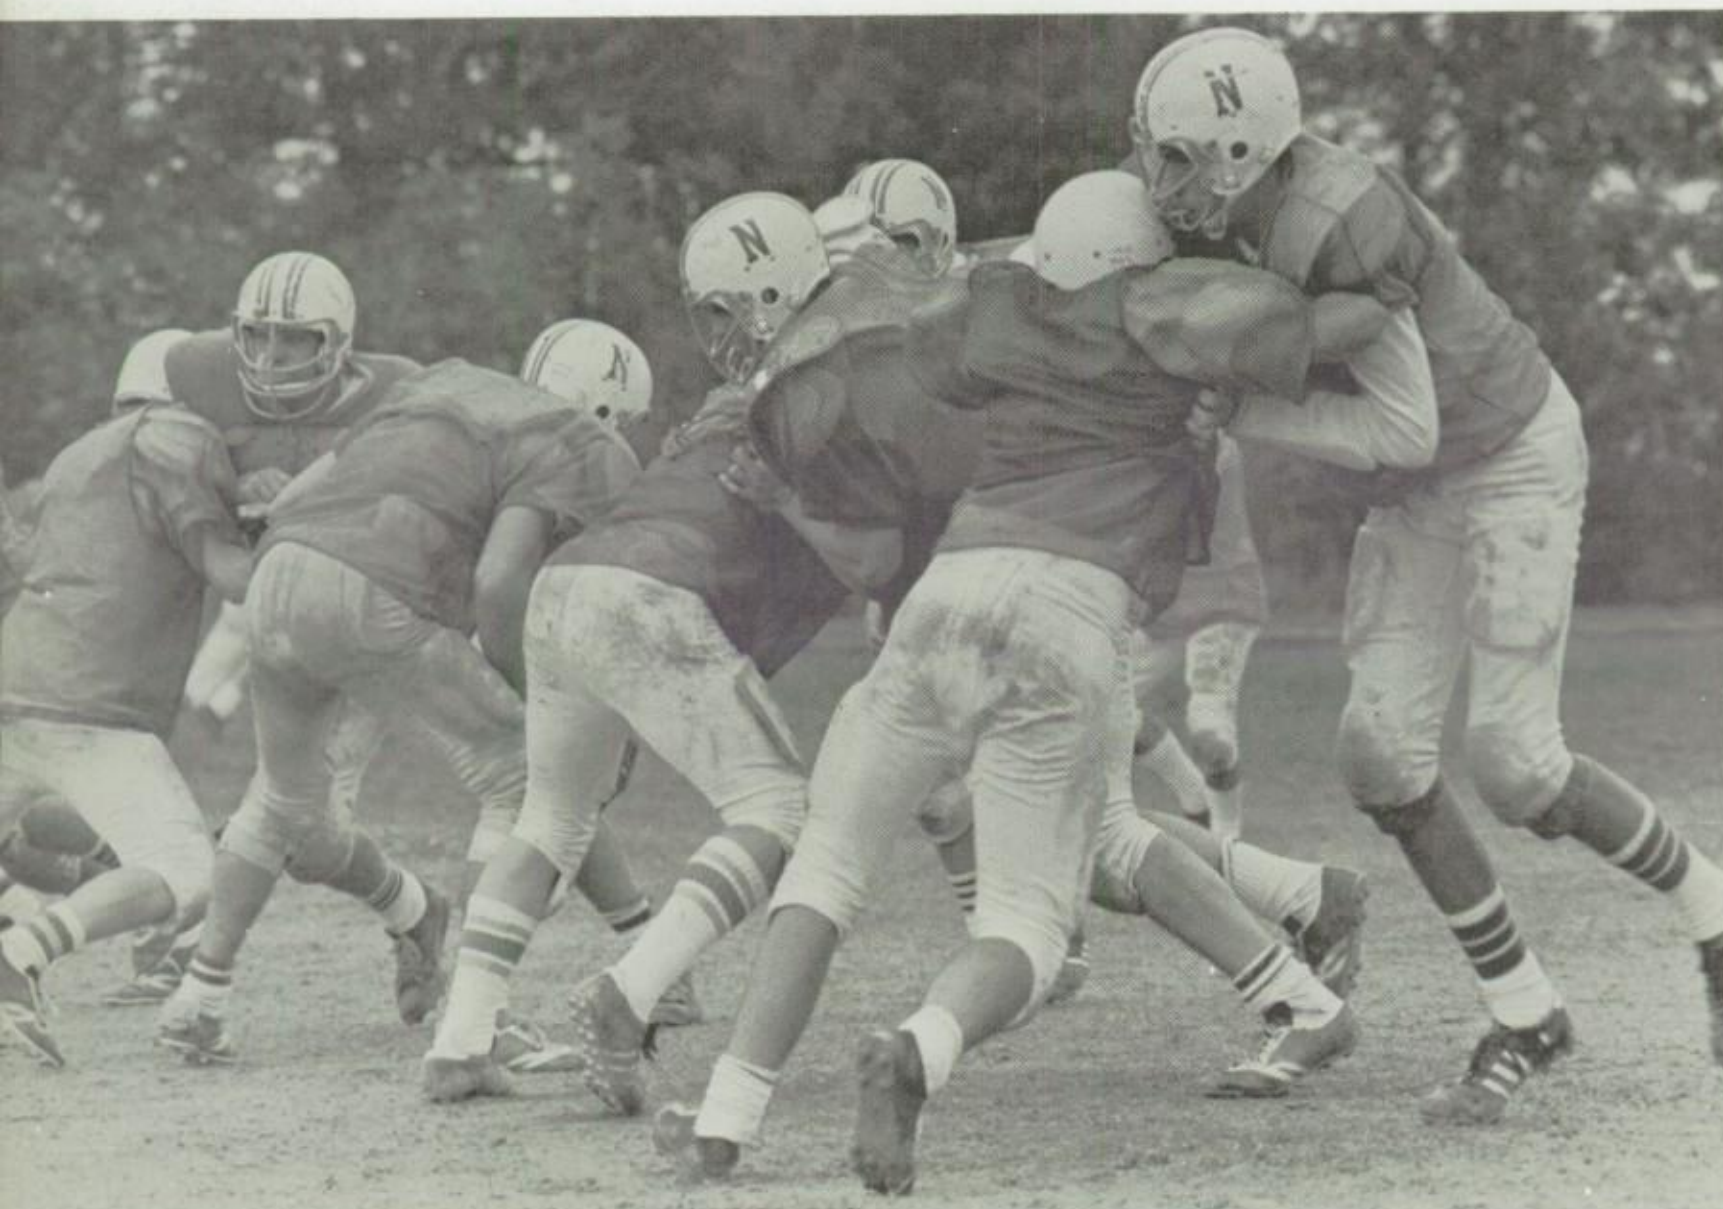

Coach Booher felt that if they were going to do something, they were going to do it right. "That's why we gave 110%. Football is a way of life. You're really involved." He thinks football is a sport that demands a lot of co-operation, whether it's players, coaches, coaches' wives, or their kids.

He is very proud of his coaching staff. "I would like to express my thanks to the coaches for their work."

Championship or not, Northmont has every right to be very proud of its football team.

Mat Men Are

The 'Bolt matmen showed many fine individual performances during their season.

On December 22, Northmont and Brookville grappled to a 31-30 score. Brookville slipped past the Green and White but Mr. Storch commented that the 'Bolts might have won if senior Tim McGillvary had wrestled. Tim was out due to illness.

At the U.D. Invitational held December 28 and 29, the 'Bolts participated and finished in 8th place. Stan Malott, a senior at JVS, placed third in the 145-lb. class. Mike Henninger (105), and Tim McGillvary (138) both placed well. Tim forfeited his last two matches because of a bad ankle. Johnny Walker also was named the Outstanding Wrestler of the tournament and champ.

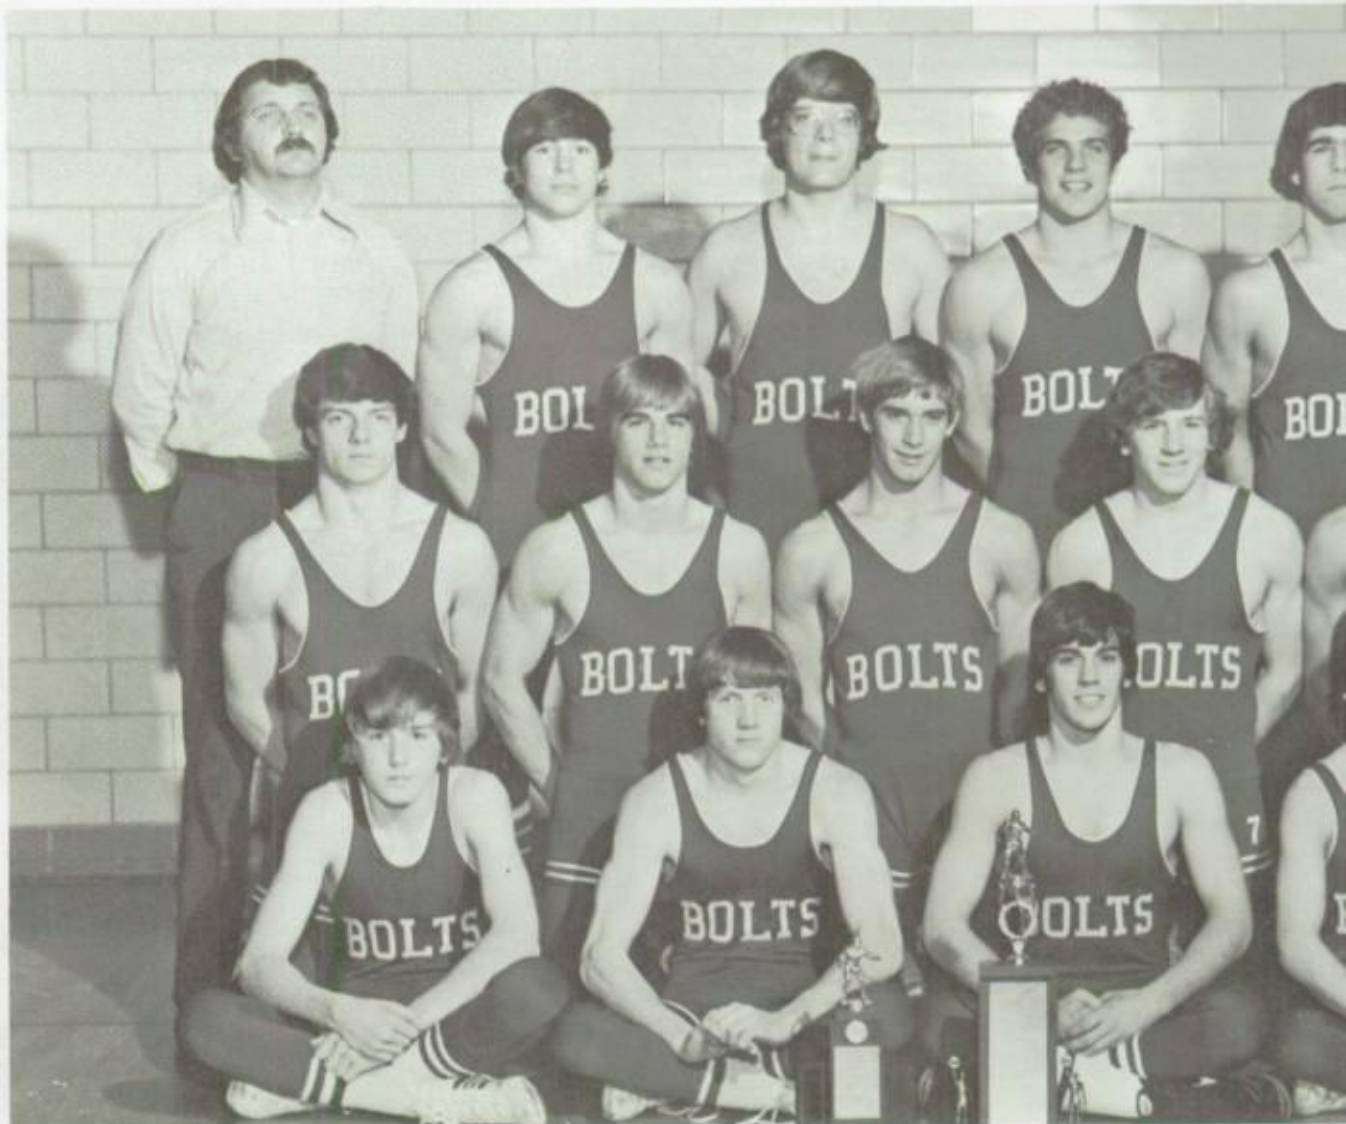

Northmont and Fairmont West clashed January 5th. Final score was 38-25 as Northmont gained another victory.

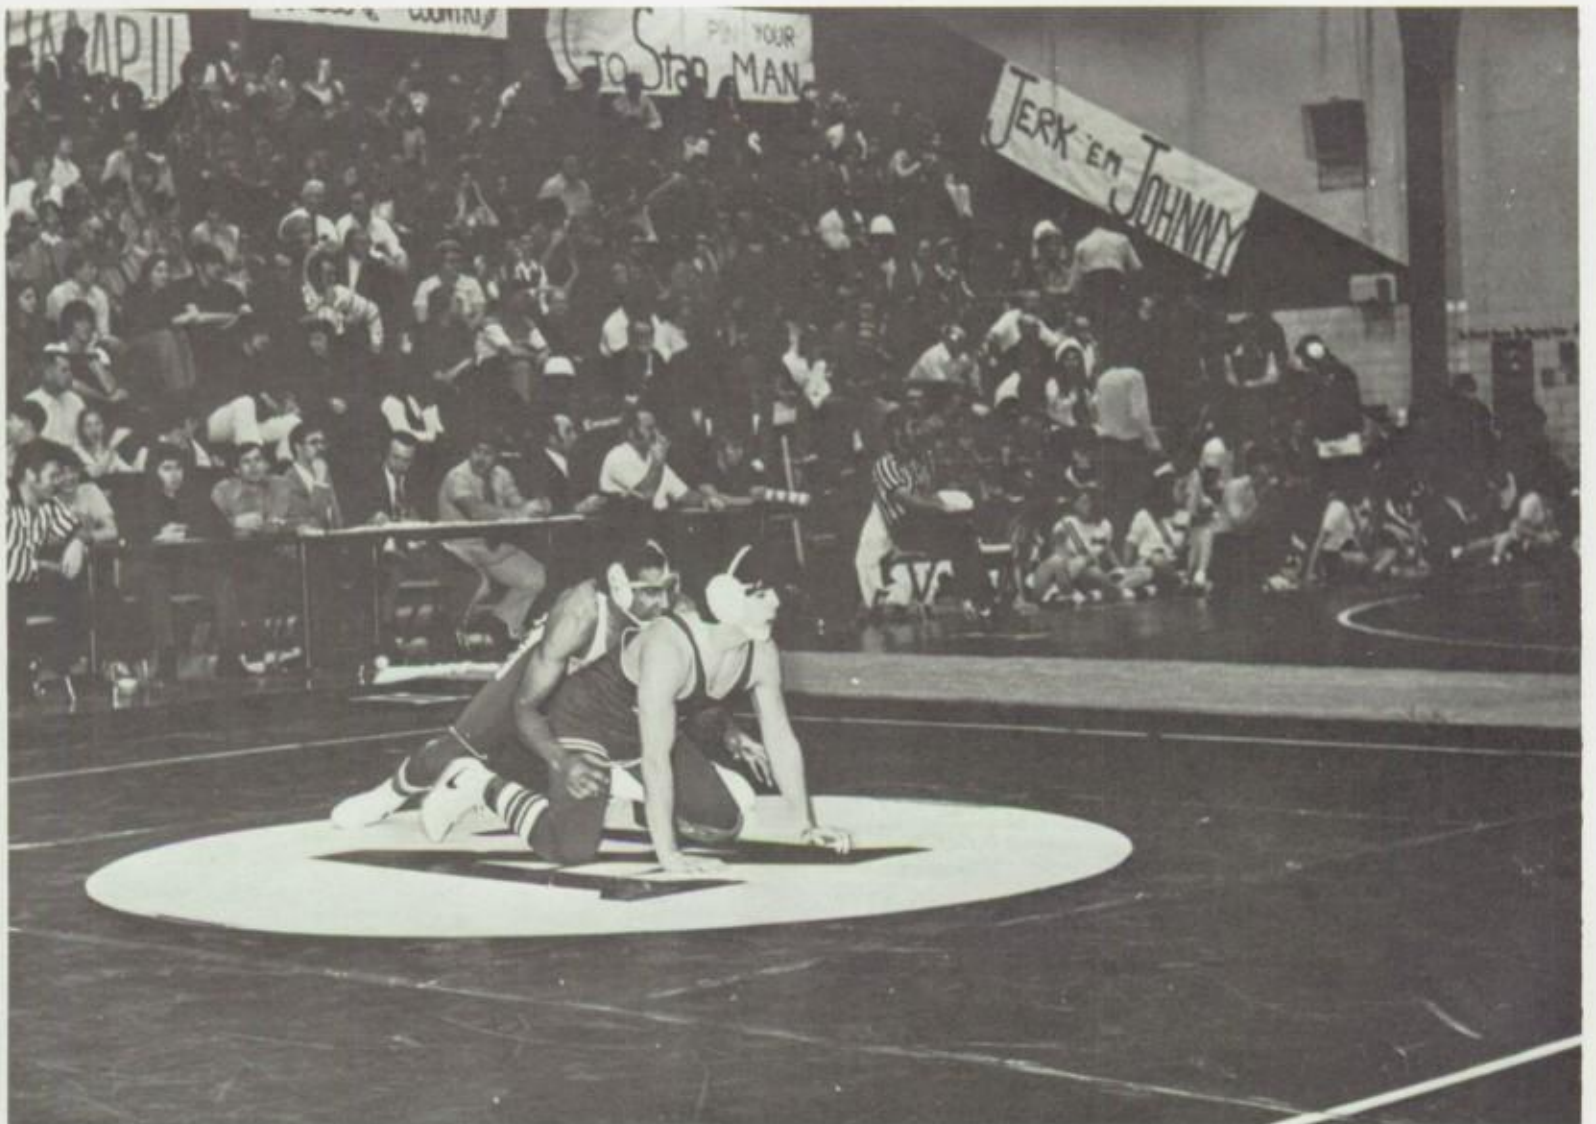

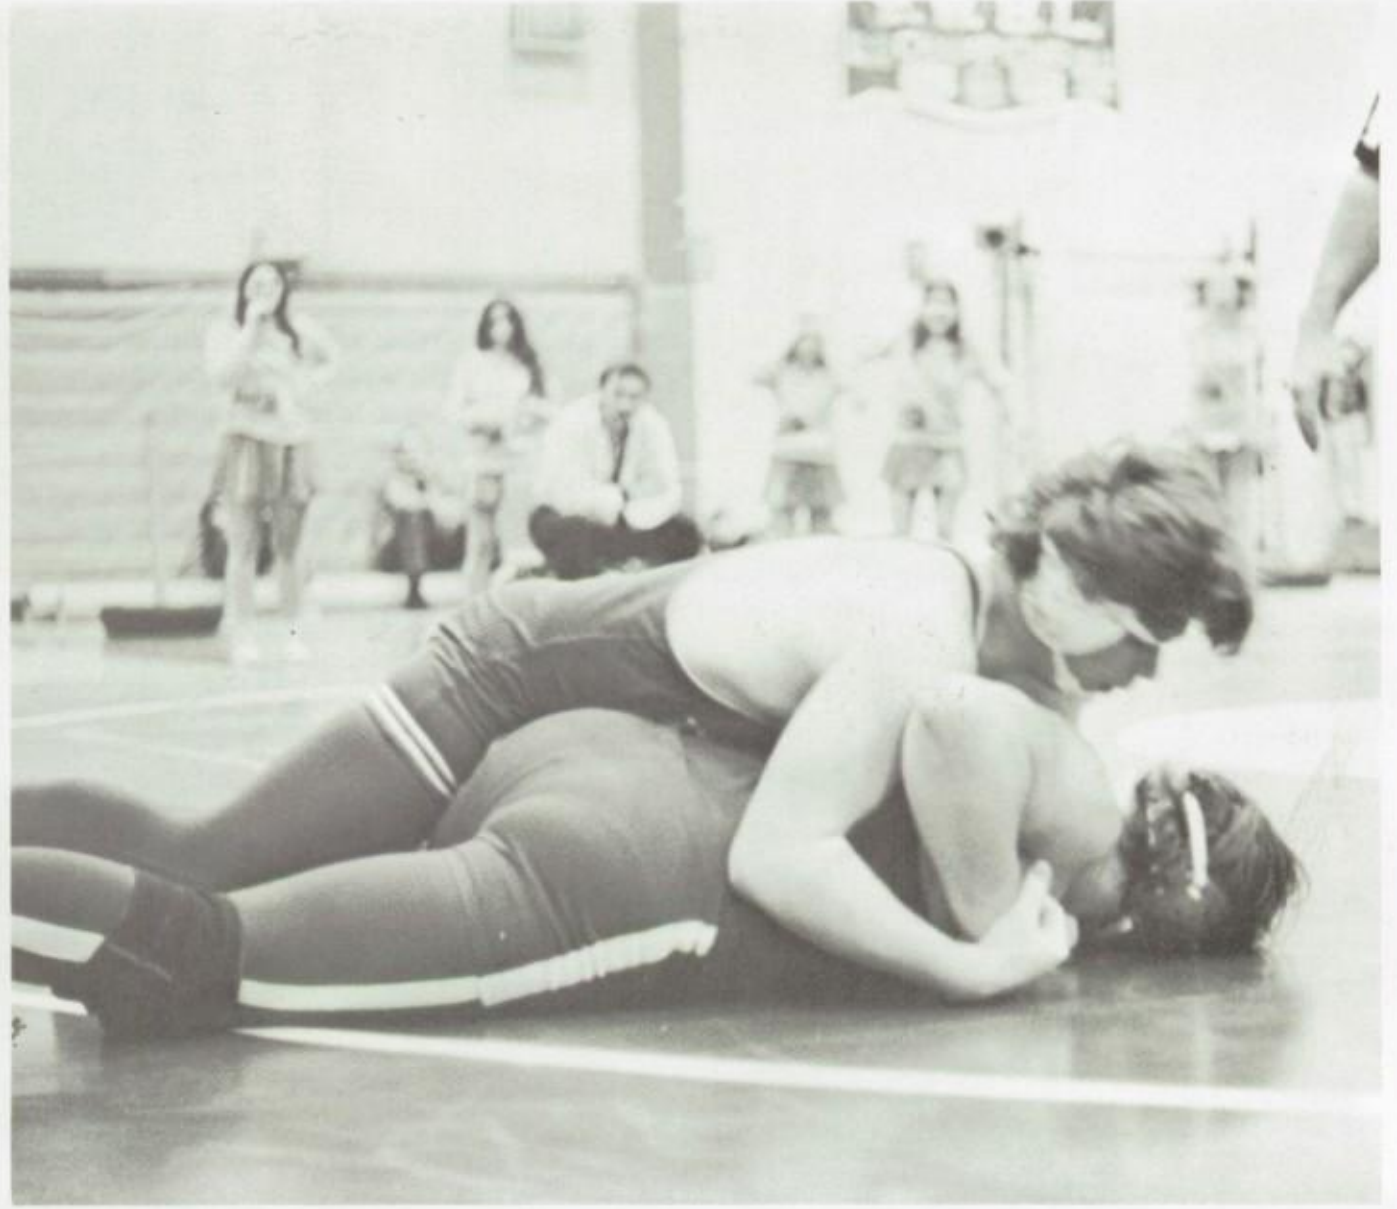

Mr. Storch, our wrestling coach here at Northmont, had a big surprise over the Christmas Holidays when the Greater Miami Valley Wrestlers Association inducted him into the Wrestlers Hall of Fame.

Mr. Storch and the assistant principal of Roosevelt High School, Bob Denny, both won the award.

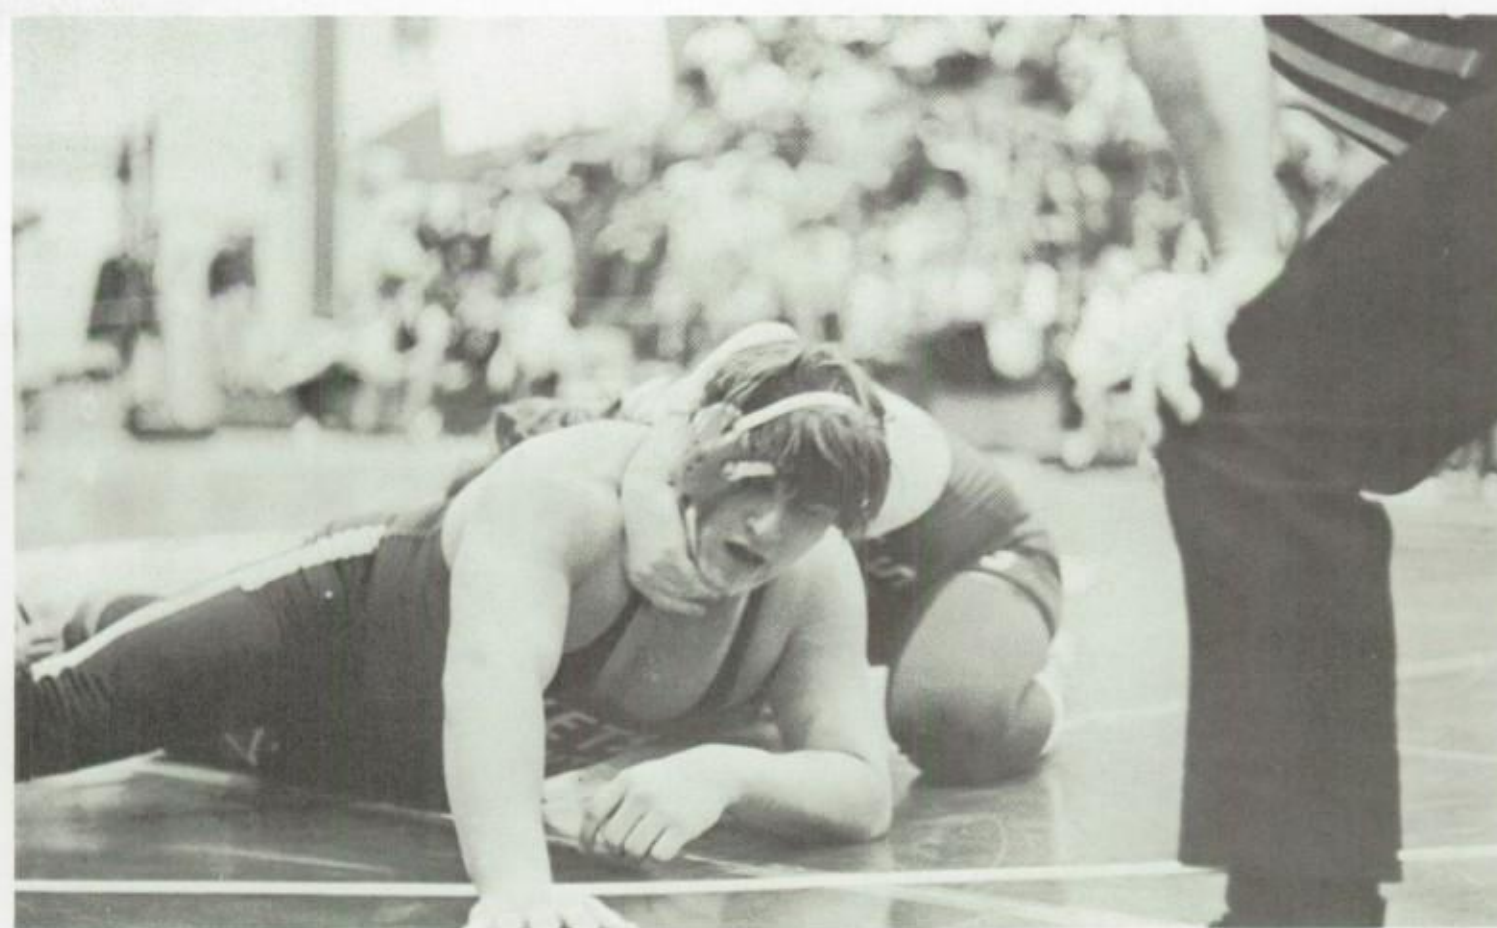

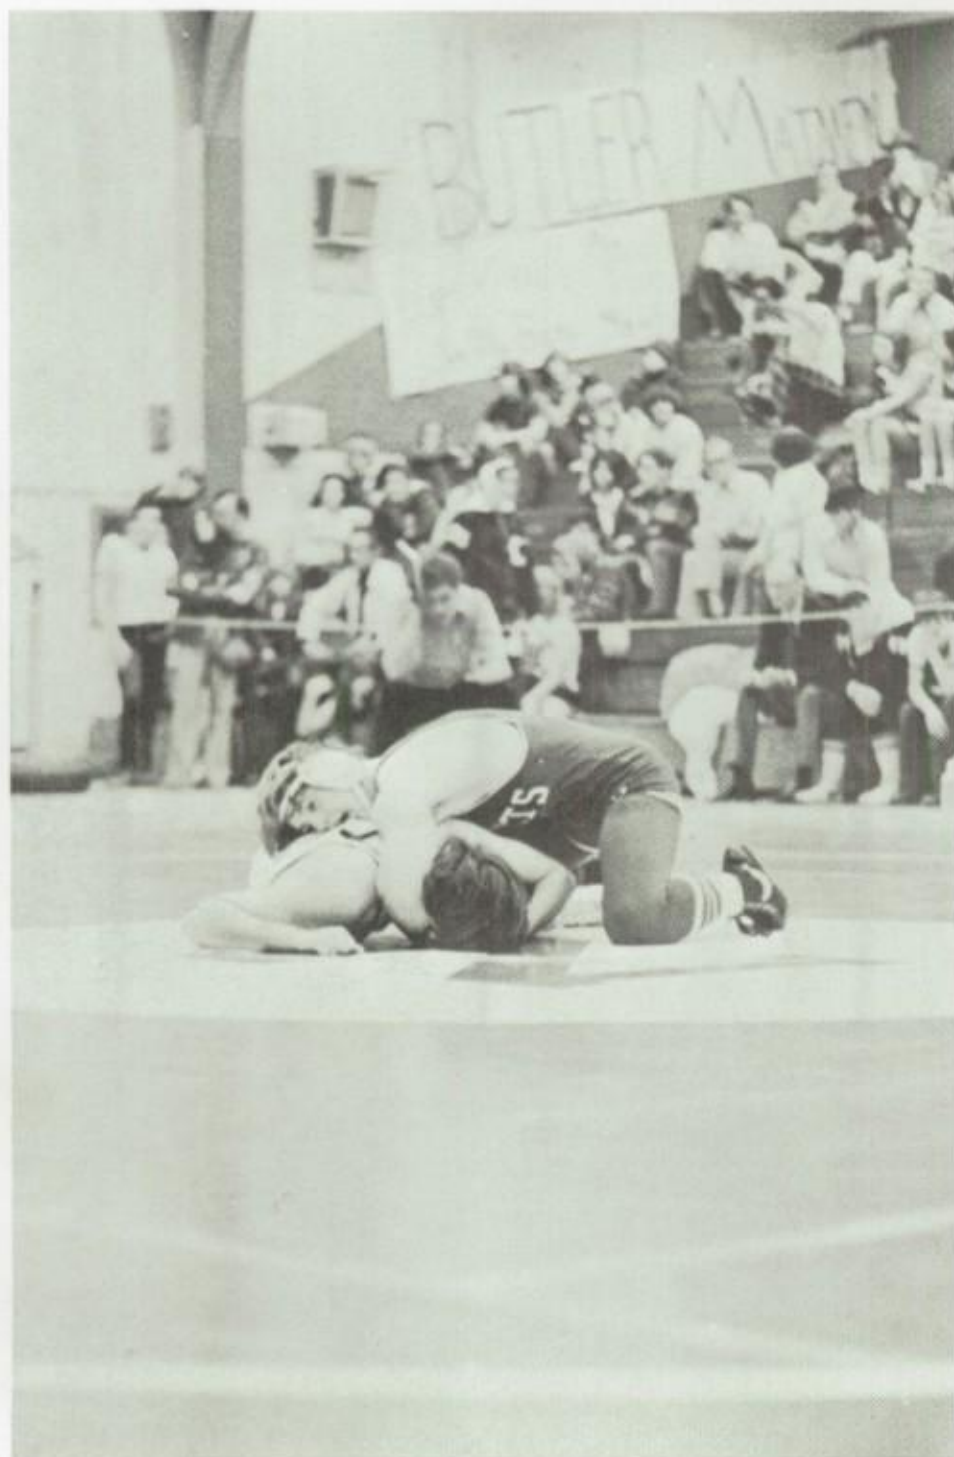

The ceremony took place after the University of Dayton tournament, Dec. 29, 1973. He received a plaque to help commemorate the special occasion. Congratulations Mr. Storch!

Mike Theall's face illustrates the hurting and pain that are just as much a part of running Cross Country as they are of any other sport.

All the determination, concentration and hard work come down to the final meet, the Greenville League Meet, and it looks like the Northmont runners are giving all they've got to turn in their best times.

So Goes the End for Seniors

Rick Kizer kackles as Debbie Power hussles to save her broken ice cream cone.

Alan Hill shuffles for the big deal of the day.

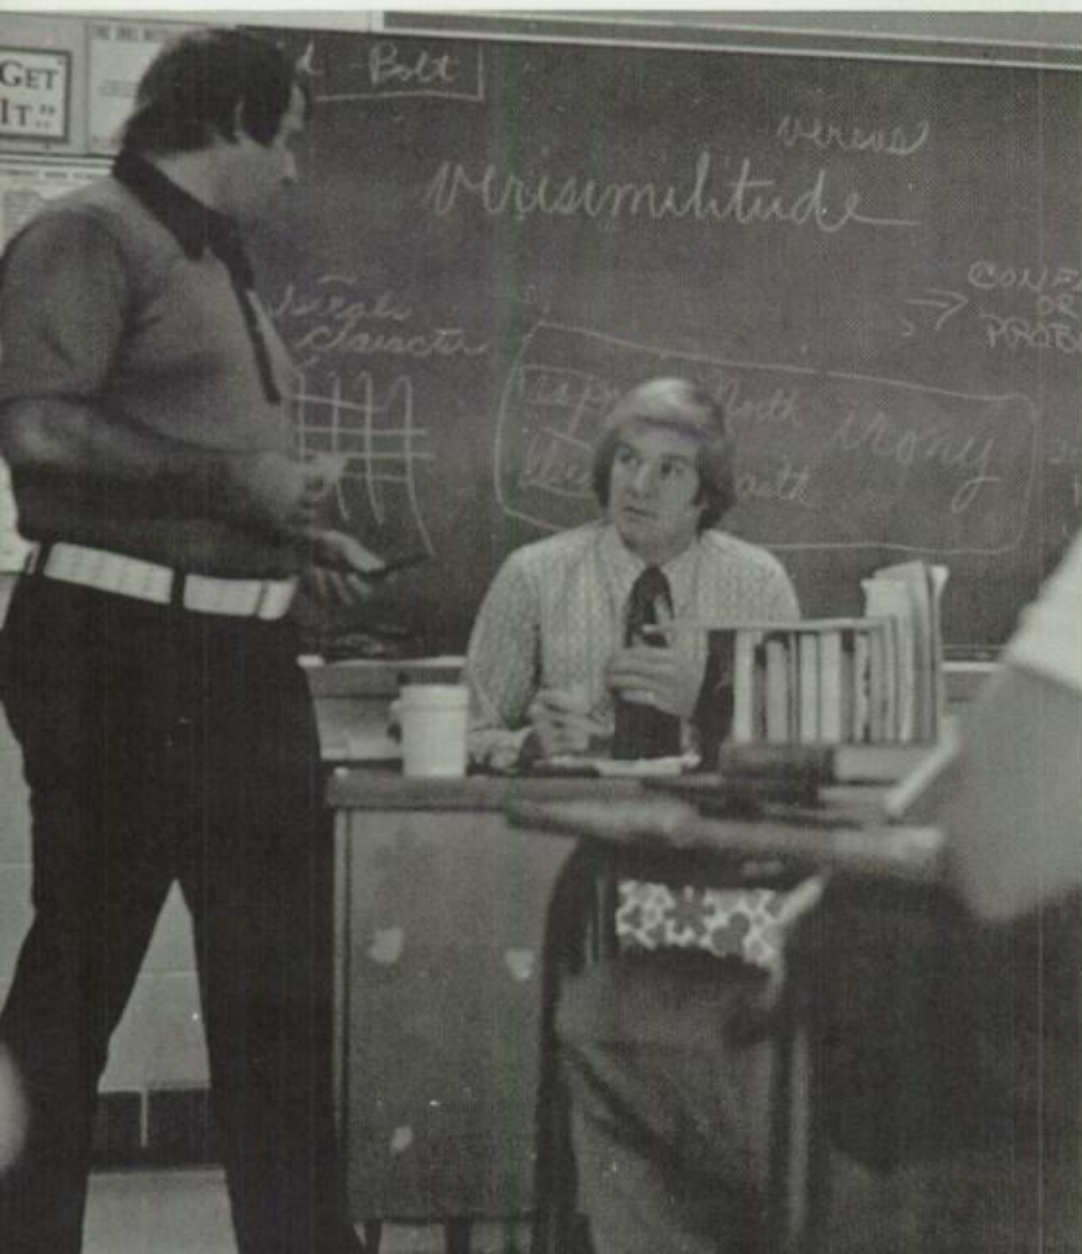

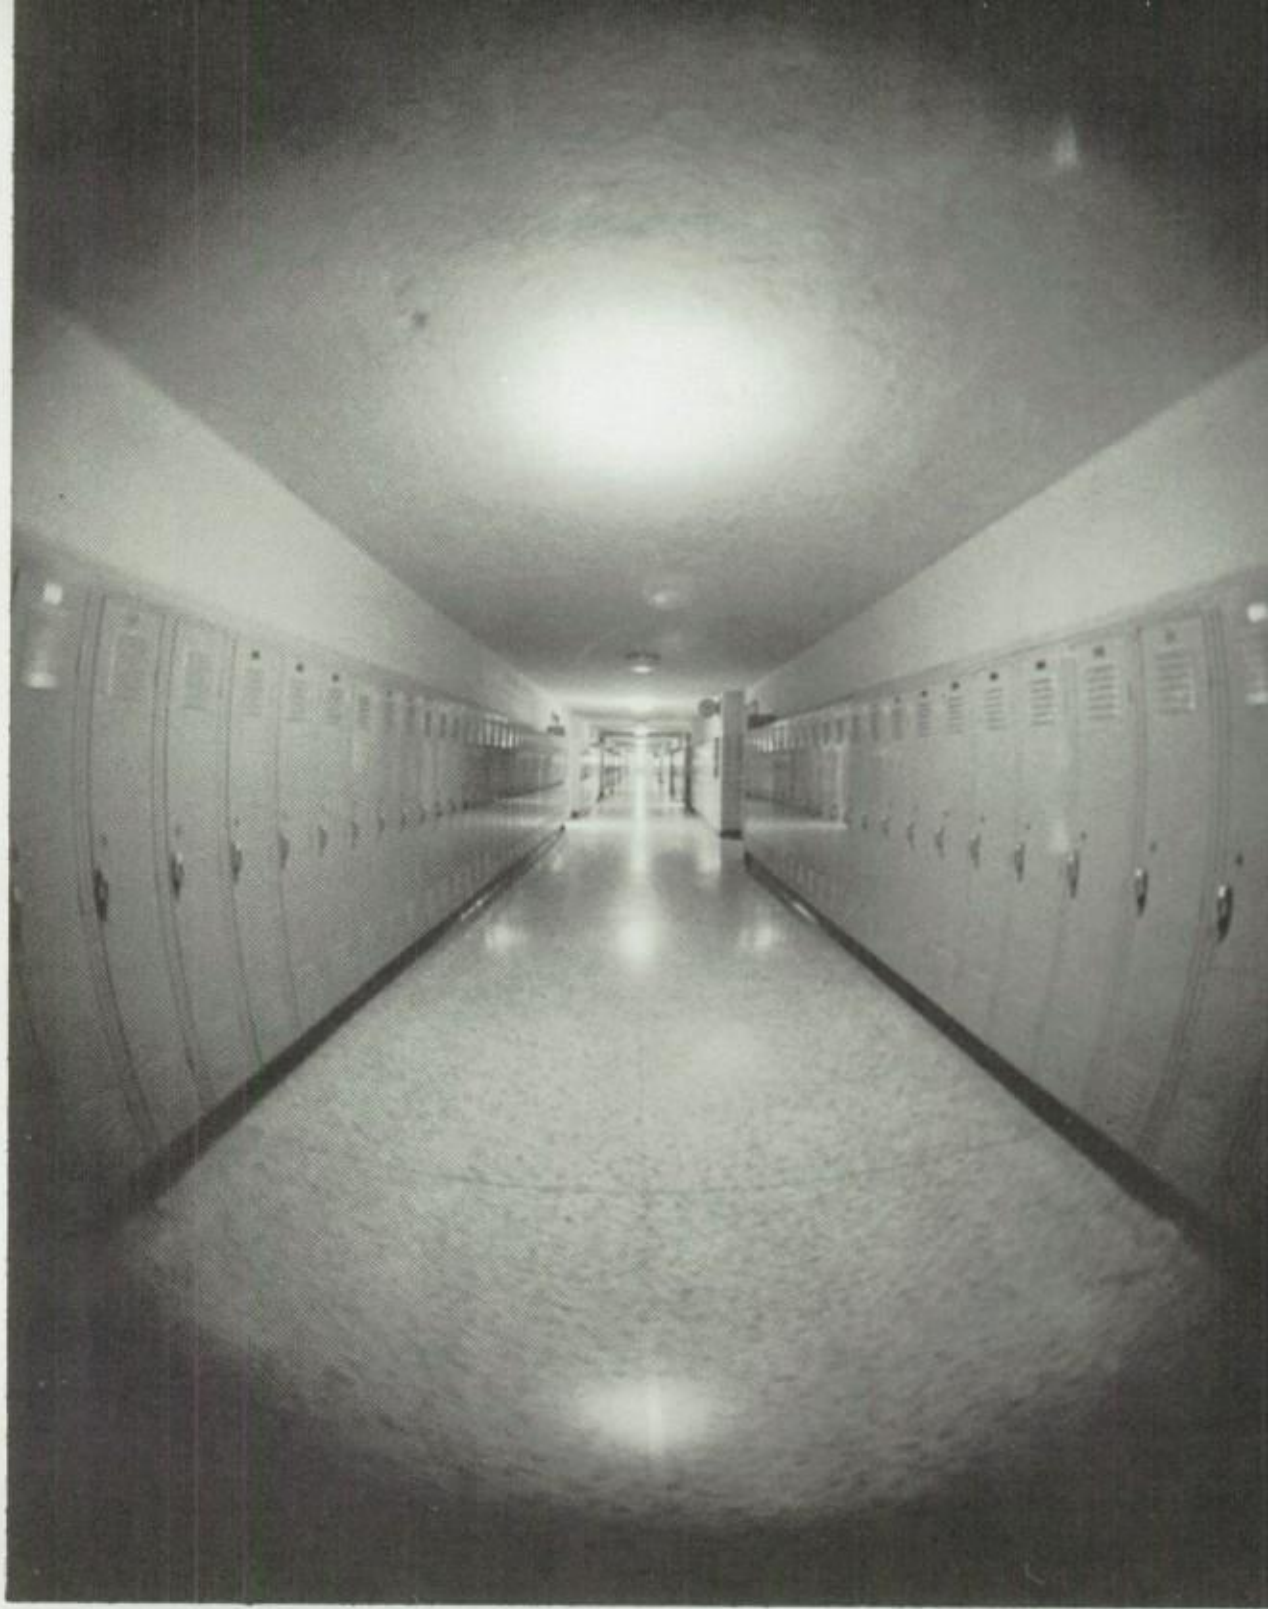

Desi Allemang and Mike Nixon lead the line up for the Hair Cut of the Year Award.

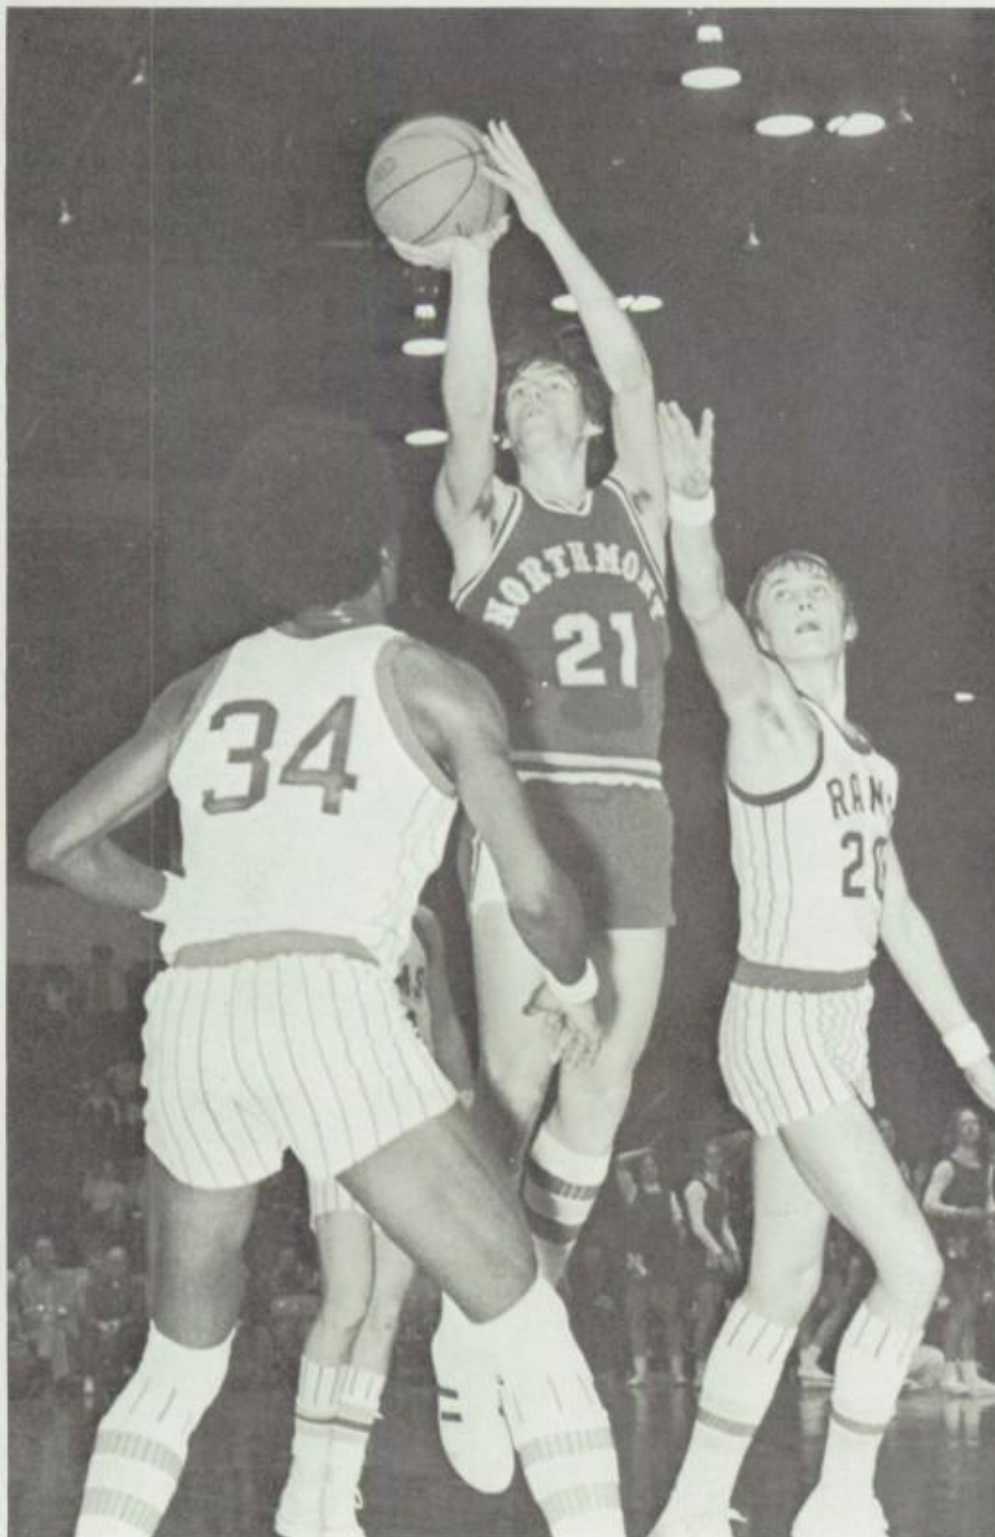

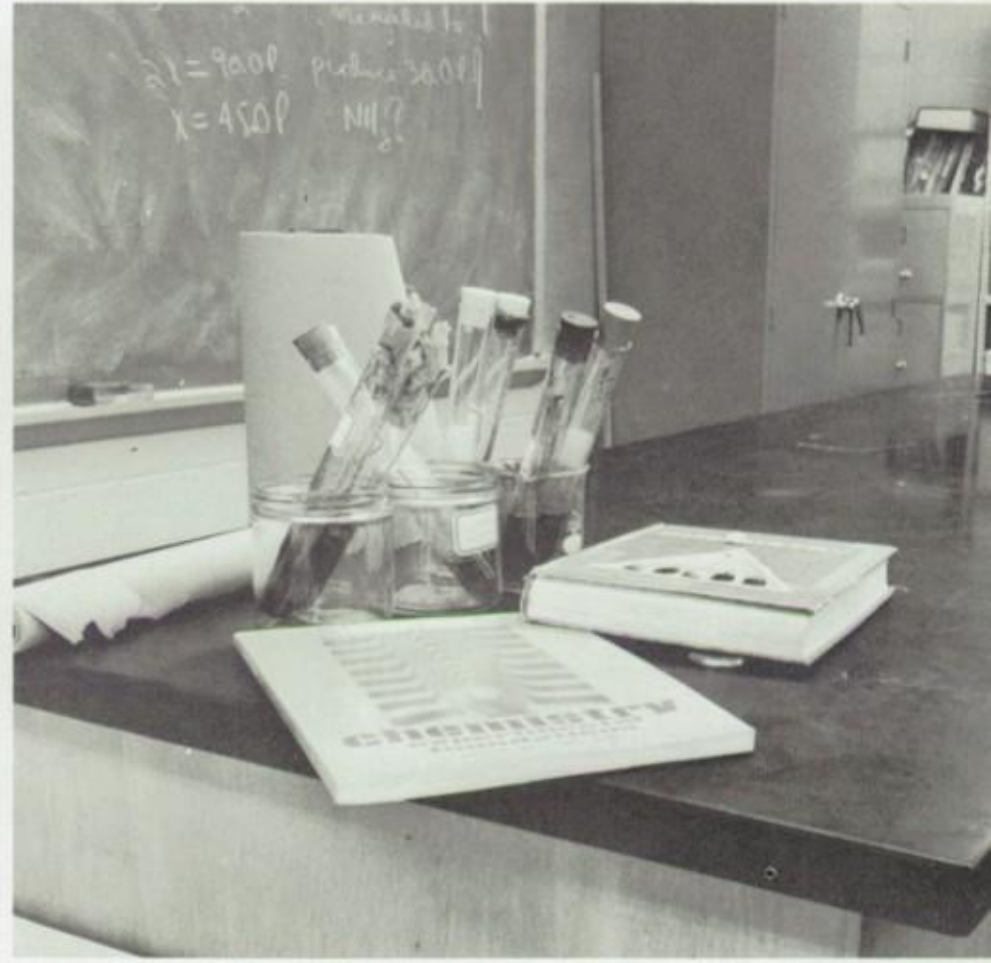

Linda Garde skillfully selects parts to point out to others from a dissected cat.

Time it was,
And what a time it was,
It was . . .
A time of innocence,
A time of confidences,
Long ago . . . it must be . . .
I have a photograph.
Preserve your memories;
They're all that's left you.

"The Future Always Arrives a Little Before You Are Ready to Give Up the Past."

There Is More to English

Mrs. Stayman

Mrs. Kauffman

Mrs. Brady

Mrs. Kuck glances up because of a disturbance in the room.

Mrs. Woodruff

James A. Garfield said that a log with a student on one end and Mark Hopkins, his old teacher, on the other end was his ideal college. The point in it all is that personal contact and direct interest in the individual student by an instructor of character is the main thing in an institution of learning.

It is your duty to use your talents. Remember if you do not use you will lose. It is reported of Charles Darwin that when he had finished his scientific work, he settled down to enjoy life. He thought that he would now enjoy poetry, music and art. Sad to say he soon discovered that these things did not strike a response in his being. Later he said, "It is too late now because I have allowed these parts of my being to atrophy."

Mr. Storch

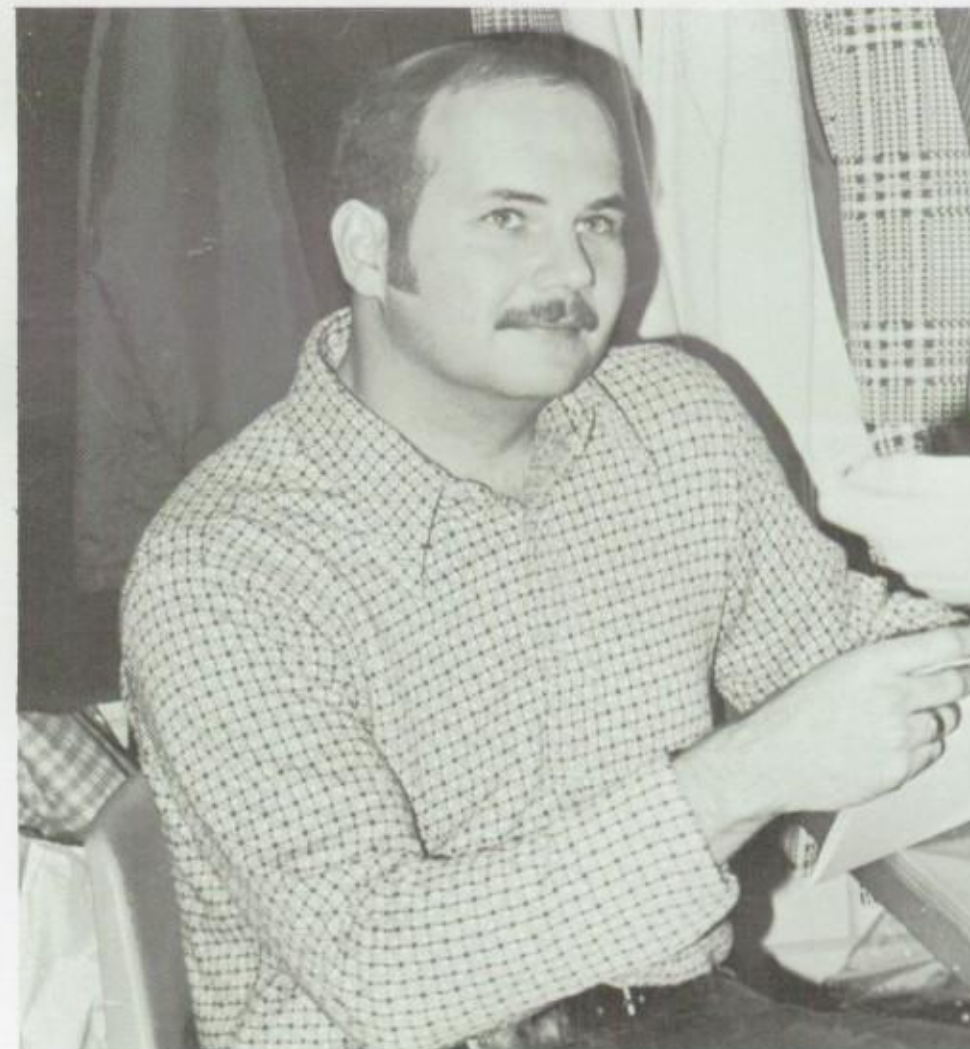

Mr. Carr

Mr. Bledsoe

A statue lies hid in a block of marble, and the art of statuary only clears away the superfluous matter and removes the rubbish. The figure is in the stone; the sculpture only finds it. What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to the human soul. The philosopher, the saint, or the hero, the wise, the good or the great man, very often lies hid and concealed in a plebian, which proper education might have disinterred, and have brought to light.

BRINGING UP FATHER — When I was a boy of 14, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be 21, I was astonished at how much the old man had learned in seven years.

Laughter — while it lasts, slakens and unbraces the mind, weakens the faculties, and causes a kind of remissness and dissolution in all the powers of the soul; and thus far it may be looked upon as a weakness in the composition of human nature. But if we consider the frequent reliefs we receive from it, and how often it breaks the gloom which is apt to depress the mind and dampen our spirit with transient, unexpected gleams of joy, one would take care not to grow too wise for so great a pleasure of life.

— ADDISON

Mr. Johnson

Life is like a beautiful winding lane, on either side bright flowers, beautiful butterflies and tempting fruits, which we scarcely pause to admire and taste so eager are we to hasten to an opening which we imagine will be more beautiful still. But by degrees, as we advance, the trees grow bleak, the flowers and butterflies fail, the fruits disappear, and we find that we have arrived — to reach a desert waste.

Reminding — the object of preaching is, constantly to remind mankind of what mankind are constantly forgetting; not to supply the defects of human intelligence, but to fortify the feebleness of human resolutions; to recall mankind from the bypaths where they turn, into that broad path of salvation which all know, but few tread.

Mrs. Bolinger

Mr. Fellers

Mrs. Livingston

Banish the future; live only for the hour and its allotted work. Think not of the amount to be accomplished, the difficulties to be overcome, but set earnestly at the little task at your elbow, letting that be sufficient for the day; for surely our plan is "Not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand."

Home Economics: A Way of Life

Endeavor to be always patient of the faults and imperfections of others, for thou hast many faults and imperfections of thy own that require a reciprocation of forbearance. If thou art not able to make thyself that which thou wishest to be, how canst thou expect to mould another in conformity to thy will?

Life's hard task — Among some skaters was a boy so small and so evidently a beginner that his frequent mishaps awakened the pity of a tender-hearted, if not wise, spectator. "Why, sonny, you are getting all bumped up," she said. "I wouldn't stay on the ice and keep falling down so; I'd just come off and watch the others." The tears of the last down fall were still rolling over the rosy cheeks, but the child looked from his advisor to the shining steel on his feet and answered half-indignantly, "I didn't get some new skates to give up with: I got them to learn how with." The whole philosophy of earthly discipline was in the reply. Life's hard tasks are never sent for us "to give up with;"

they are always intended to awaken strength, skill, and courage in learning how to master them.

— FORWARD

Except a living man there is nothing more wonderful than a book. A message to us from the dead. From human souls we never saw, who lived, perhaps, thousands of miles away, and yet these, in those little sheets of paper speak to us, arouse us, terrify us, teach us, comfort us, open their hearts to us as brothers.

Health — It is a sum of money in the bank, which will support you, economically spent. But you spend foolishly and draw on the principal. This diminishes the income, and you draw larger and larger drafts until you become bankrupt. Overeating, overworking, every imprudence is a draft on life which health cashes and charges at a thousand per cent interest. Every abuse of health hastens death.

Like flakes of snow that fall imperceptibly upon the earth, the seeming unimportant events of life succeed one another. — As the snowflakes gather, so our habits are formed. — No single flake that is added to the pile produces a sensible change — no single action creates however it may exhibit, a man's character. — But as the tempest hurls the avalanche down the mountain and overwhelms the inhabitant and his habitation, so passion, acting on the elements of mischief watch pernicious habits have brought together, may overthrow the ediface of truth and virtue.

NEGLECT — A story is told of a young man who stood at the bar of justice to be sentenced for forgery. The judge had known the young man from childhood, for his father had been a famous legal light and his work on the law of trust was the most exhaustive work on the subject. "Do you remember your father," asked the judge sternly, "That father whom you have disgraced?" The prisoner answered, "I remember him perfectly. When I went to him for advice or companionship, he would look up from his book on the Law of Trust and say, 'Run away, boy, I am busy.' My father finished his book, and here I am." The greatest Lawyer had neglected his own trust with awful results.

DETERMINATION — The longer I live, the more I am certain that the great difference between men — between the feeble and the powerful, the great and the insignificant — is energy, invincible determination — a purpose, once fixed and then death or victory. The quality will do anything that can be done in this world, and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities, will make a two-legged creature a man without it. There are hinderances without and within, but the outer hinderances could effect nothing if there were no inner surrender to them. Fear of opinion, timidity, dread of change, love of ease, indolence, unfaithfulness are the great hinderances. Optimism is believing that you can eat the rooster that scratches over your grave.

Not knowledge, but aptitude — It isn't what a man knows that matters, but how near to a straight line he can drive the processes of his mind; how near to a lean and useful muscle he can make the mind; how near he can come to lassoing a truth or method. No man should be judged by what he doesn't know. He should be judged only by how quickly and sensibly he assumes new duties.

A fundamental law — We are too hasty to believe every evil report. Many an innocent person has been injured by a tale that was without foundation. It is a serious matter to do an injustice to a fellow man by a report that we spread. The first thing, the least thing that one can do before he passes on a story that has come to him, is to stop long enough to ask if it is true. One of the ten fundamental laws of character is, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

A WILD GOOSE CHASE — Happiness in this world, when it comes, comes incidentally. Make it the object of pursuit, and it leads us on a wild goose chase and is never attained. Follow some other object, and very possibly we may find that we have caught happiness without dreaming of it; but likely enough it is gone the moment we say to ourselves "Here it is" like the chest of gold that treasure seekers find.
